CUT OUT CARES.

Take Life Easy is Pleasant Advice to the Tired.

Priscilla Prim says that it is by the process of elimination that sensible housekeepers manage to get their work done and have a little time for leisure and to do outside things. In the olden days, when a woman's life was entirely centered in her home, she could afford perhaps to spend undue time in society. Today she cannot.

She now has other interests besides home affairs, and while the family and home should not be neglected in the least, yet neither should outside matters, which develop, broaden and give her an entire change of thought.

It may be the club or lectures or other things—it doesn't matter so much what, so long as she is getting relaxation and something worth while.

The only normal way for a housekeeper to have leisure is by elimination.
Perhaps all your life you have felt it was necessary to have a dessert every night for dinner. Drop it occasional and take the time you would have wasted with a pie or pudding and read or do something you like.

It isn't necessary, either, to dust behind every picture and on top of every high piece of furniture just at stated intervals in each week. Forget about it once in awhile.

If you are going to have a little leisure, eliminate all unnecessary courses and change of dishes—things that would tire you out and keep you from enjoying it. Your guests will respect and admire you for your courage.

There are women so cut and dried in the habits of housecleaning that when the calendar points to such a date in the spring, no matter if it's below zero or excessively hot for the season, the house is ripped up from garret to cellar and the ordeal commences. It's a great thing to be elastic in these matters and be able to eliminate some cares.

About the chamber floor;
He danced upon an upturned tack—
And then he danced some more.

ABOUT THE STATE

Chauncey A. Adams, who has resigned the secretaryship of the St. Johnsbury Y. M. C. A. after two years' service, will be succeeded July 1 by C. A. Palmer, the present physical director. Mr. Adams has been in association with six years in Montreal and the island of Ceylon. He goes to another position.

Charles W. Steele, president of the St. Johnsbury Alumni association, urges every former student, graduate or not, to attend the big reunion Friday. "As to the program," says Mr. Steele, "it will be conspicuous by its absence. It seems impossible to have a better time than we did last year, but that is just what we propose to do."

The second "red tag day" for the benefit of the Brattleboro rest room, the only association of its kind in the state, was held Saturday and nearly 5,000 tags were sold. The exact amount collected is not known, but it will exceed last year's proceeds, which were $370. The solicitors were mainly members of the Woman's club and girls from the high school.

The university of Vermont's play, "William Warren's Welcome," was presented to a large house in Bennington Saturday evening. Its author, Roger G.
Ramsdell, '09, lives in Bennington, and his townspeople took pleasure in the bright lines and situations of the piece.
The cast was the same as that which presented the play in Burlington June 3.

It is announced that John Philip Sousa, the famous bandmaster and widely known as "the march king," will attend the tournament of the Vermont Trap Shooters' league at Rutland Wednesday and Thursday. The Rutland City band would like to play some Sousa music under direction of the composer, and an effort is being made to have him lead the band.

This state's youngest bank president in point of service, Charles H. Pratt of Brattleboro, is at the head of Vermont's oldest savings institution, the Vermont Savings bank. It was chartered in 1849.
The savings bank in Bellows Falls, Burlington, Windsor and Woodstock were chartered in 1847. As previously stated, Mr. Pratt was elected to succeed the late Frederick Holbrook.

New Corporations.

The Albion Produce company formed to deal in fruits, vegetables, cheese, butter and other articles has been incorporated under the laws of this state. The capital stock is $5,000 in 1,000 shares.
The subscribers are A. E. Ayers, M. E.
Conway and R. E. Goodale.

The Woodstock Telephone company also filed articles at the secretary's office this morning to construct and maintain lines in Windsor county. The capital stock is $5,000 in 250 shares.
Thirty-eight subscribers signed the articles.

TURNED DOWN OFFER.

Dr. Bishop's Work Has Been Noted by Trustees of Other Institutions.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Bishop, principal of Montpelier seminary, returned late Saturday night from a three days' trip in the interests of the endowment fund and will be able, as result, to add a few thousands to the fund. The mail for the last three days has brought in nearly two thousand dollars in response to letters sent out to alumni and friends of the school. It is expected that a much larger sum will be added to the treasury before Saturday night, as in the letters sent out, replies were requested before that date.

People are taking hold of the project.
Montpelier is waking up to the realization of what the school means to the city, and if everyone plays his or her part, affairs will be rescued by commencement time. If not, the city loses a splendid opportunity to include a handsomely endowed school among its assets.
It is something that the board of trade might take up, making the seminary an asset fact.

It is not generally known that Dr.
Bishop's work has been observed by the trustees of a well endowed, well equipped institution and that its officers have been making inquiries as to its availability to take their presidency, and that, with such a splendid offer ahead, an opportunity to take up similar duties in an institution which is powerful and which has survived the endowment struggle long since, he has deliberately turned the offer down because he wants to see "this thing through" and to see the seminary win the endowment which would put it on easier pathways. His personal sacrifice is great.

VERMONT ACADEMY ELECTS.

TAPT IS COMING.

Says Publicity Bureau of The Champlain Tercentenary Celebration.

Newport, June 15.—A Washington dispatch to some New England papers last week, indicated that there is some doubt as to President Taft's proposed visit to the field of the Champlain tercentenary celebration the first week of July. Gov. Geo. H. Prouty was a caller upon the president at about the time the news above mentioned was sent out and his understanding of the matter is that any doubt of the president's coming is not worthy of serious consideration.

While it is not impossible that the tariff bill may be in a critical stage at the time of the tercentenary event, any more than it is not impossible that some unforeseen event may complicate plans of any sort, any probability that the president will be kept in Washington is extremely remote.

Gov. Prouty has not the slightest doubt of the presence of President Taft at all the Champlain anniversary functions where he is expected to be, and the former has had the latest interview with the latter from which conclusions can be drawn.
